

Are you interested in...

- developing a long-term career in global supply chain business for consumer goods?
- shaping the supply chain of the future?
- creating a positive impact on the lives of a billion people in the communities we operate in?

PMD is a three-year junior management development program with the objective to recruit high potential talents across the globe and groom them to become our Group's future business and function leaders.

Under PMD, we offer three options. The PMD program develops talents for our trading, logistics, distribution and retail businesses across the world. Our China Specialization offers career opportunities in these businesses in Mainland China; while our Operations Support Group Specialization (OSG) offers career opportunities in HR, ITS and FNA in any of our offices across the world.
