

4flow management.

Shen, 4flow management

As an award-winning employer and full-range provider of supply chain optimization services, 4flow combines consulting, software development, and integrated supply chain services into one innovative business model. Our business unit 4flow management continuously plans, optimizes, and manages supply chain networks as a neutral 4PL with innovative concepts in transportation and network management.

As a German company operating globally, we are looking for a motivated team member for our Shanghai office who shares our enthusiasm for logistics and supply chain management. You will take an active part in 4flow's projects for our multinational customers in China as a:

Supply Chain Analyst

Your responsibilities

- Quantitative analysis and evaluation of supply chain data, processes and networks
- Identification and evaluation of weaknesses and creation of various optimization scenarios
- Development and realization of innovative supply chain concepts, for instance for transportation and network optimization
- Tactical planning of transportation networks and route implementation

Your profile

- Bachelor's or master's degree preferably in supply chain management or logistics
- Relevant practical experience in logistics or supply chain management for an international company in the automotive industry or with a logistics service provider
- Excellent analytical skills, a conceptual attitude as well as a structured and solution-focused work approach
- Native speaker of Mandarin with excellent English communication skills (written and spoken)

We offer

A competitive base salary, an attractive bonus system and fringe benefits await you. In addition, our talent management program creates a professional framework for high performers, offering candidates like you an exciting international career at a leading international 4PL provider. You will work together with an excellent team of colleagues eager to share their know-how and experience.

Are you interested in joining 4flow? Please apply by submitting your English resume/CV, cover letter and desired salary through our job portal or call Lily Jin at +86 21 802156-88 for more details.
